Issue 21 (Parents, Carers & Young People)*

Parents and Carers

DSPL 1 Parent Survey - Results

We carried out a parent survey during Autumn 2021, we had over 250 responses. Thank you to Raine Simcox our parent representative for carrying this out and collating the data. Please find attached the results. We are looking at the gaps in training and support for parents and have put together an overview of what is already available. This will inform our planning of training. We thank everyone for their contribution.

Changes to our Statutory SEND service which will, in time, improve the Education, Health and Care Plan experience for families. You can read all about what's changing and how these changes might affect you in our latest blogpost on the Local offer: www.hertfordshire.gov.uk/improvingstatutorySEND

As a result of the review, we developed a detailed plan of recommendations. We are pleased that we are now implementing some of these changes and hope that families will start to see a real improvement in the way the processes for statutory SEND work going forward.

NHS England » What to do if you're a young person and it's all getting too much

It hasn't been easy living through the COVID-19 pandemic which has caused many restrictions, from the closure of schools to changes to social interactions which has led to feelings of uncertainty for many of us. Things can feel overwhelming, and you may feel you can't cope. You might be struggling to adjust to changes in routines, new social pressures and greater expectations from your friends, family or school. You might also feel uncertainty around upcoming examinations and what form these may take. You might feel worried about friendships, your family, school or college including managing the work. You might be feeling down or sad – some of your friends and family members may be feeling the same way – and this can be usual at the moment. Those feelings may have become very deep and intense, and you might not know what to do about them. It's okay not to feel okay, there is hope for you and you can get through this. You're not alone – many people feel like this at some time in their lives – and more people are likely to be feeling this way at the moment because of the impact of the pandemic on our lives. What's important for you to know is that there are lots of ways of dealing with these feelings. It's absolutely possible to come out the other side and feel okay again.
